Testimonials

“Key areas that we look for when we are appointing a consultant are their ability to fully understand our business and to clearly demonstrate that they can add value to our proposals whilst still delivering to very tight time scales. FMW have continually proven their ability to achieve the above. David Wilson Homes have worked with FMW on a number of projects over the past 5 years and their proactive and professional approach continues to impress.”

Tim Blythe - Technical Director, David Wilson Homes

“In what is now a competitive field we have found that FMW provides a very professional and creative service to our mutual clients. We are always pleased when they are appointed to work with us as we find them to be genuine team players; easy to work with and proactive in their approach”.

Tim Holden – Director, WYG Planning & Design

“I have been thoroughly impressed and pleased by FMW's practical and professional highways solutions and the great value added by their effective and dedicated negotiations with Local and Highway Authorities. Dependable, efficient and a pleasure to work with.”

Mark Thorne – Town Planning Manager, Tesco Stores Ltd

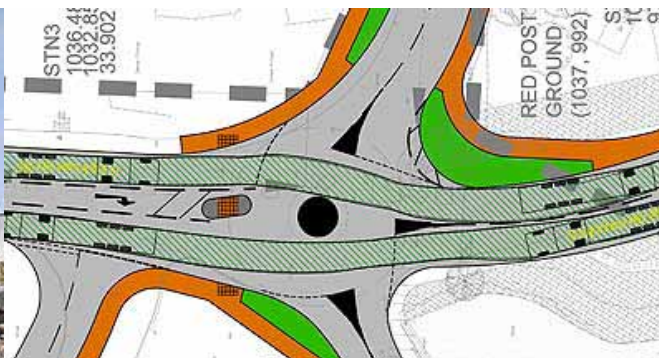

“We have found FMW Consultancy to be a professional and effective consultancy, being able to steer some difficult discussions to a successful outcome.”

Testimonials

“I have worked with Richard for almost 10 years. I have always found him and FMW professional and dependable. They are very approachable, have a client focus and a “can do attitude”, which is beneficial to the projects we work on together.”

Owen Jones - Director, Boyer Planning

“Transportation issues are regularly key to achieving successful planning outcomes. FMW has assisted NLP on a number of schemes in identifying relevant transportation issues at an early stage and then offering practical and cost effective solutions founded on good practice.”

Gareth Williams – Director, NLP

“FMW have longstanding established relationship with GL Hearn’s Bath office. FMW are our first point of contact for transport planning advice. What distinguishes them from their competitors is direct access to senior and experienced professionals, and excellent client care in terms of problem solving and delivery of timely and cost effective advice.”

Testimonials

“During our professional relationship with FMW, we have engaged them on different scales of projects with many different scopes of work involved in each, from single dwelling access solutions to strategic development traffic impact assessments. At all times we find that they equip themselves well for each individual site and through correct technical expertise and negotiation we have always been pleased with the outcome of the work which FMW have undertaken. This is greatly aided by the direct Director / client relationship which is maintained well by Richard White and certainly has the knack of understanding what is required for each project therefore not over burdening the client with the technicalities whilst ensuring that these are fully resolved through each element of work depending on the project. Furthermore it is obvious that FMW’s good relationship with many of the Local Authorities and Statutory Bodies has been a definite bonus when negotiating some of our more complicated development proposals. It goes a long way to say that FMW are one of the few consultants that we have worked with and recommend to others.”

Richard Mead – Divisional Director, Summerfield Homes

“I have worked closely with the FMW team over several years on a wide range of residential, commercial and mixed use projects. I have always found their work on Transport Assessments and Travel Plans to support applications, appeals and LDF work to be highly professional and cost effective.”

Andrew Penna – Director, AP Planning
